DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 7-10 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected group II, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on October 20, 2008.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 2, 5, 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b)/(a) as being anticipated by WO 03/044235 A2 (WO'235).

WO'235 teaches aluminum alloy strip for making heat exchangers, and teaches an example with 1.2% Si, 1.1% Fe, <0.1% Cu, <0.1% Mn, <0.1% Mg, balance aluminum (example 2, page 8) with a thickness of 80  $\mu$ m and Rm=135 Mpa in an annealed temper (page 8), which falls within the claimed alloying ranges and Si/Fe ratio (cl. 1, 5, 6) and meets the instant property limitations (cl. 1, 2). Therefore, it is held that WO'235 anticipates the presently claimed invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP01-034548A (JP'548).

JP'548 teaches an aluminum alloy foil (typically 0.02mm thick, abstract) by continuously casting with a twin roll caster, said alloy comprising (in wt%): 0.8-2% Fe, 0.1-1.0% Si, 0.01-0.5% Cu, 0.01-0.5% Mg, 0.01-1% Mn,  $\leq 0.1\%$  Ti,  $\leq 0.05\%$  B, balance aluminum (abstract), which overlaps the boundary of the presently claimed alloying ranges (cl. 1, 5). Concerning claim 6, 1.0% Si taught by JP'548 is held to be a close approximation of the presently claimed minimum of 1.1% Si. JP'548 teaches an example of said alloy in an annealed temper and 20  $\mu\text{m}$  thickness exhibits a typical  $R_m=10.5 \text{ kg/mm}^2$  (122.6MPa), which meets the strength limitations of instant claims 1 and 2. Therefore, because JP'548 teaches an overlapping alloy composition, product thickness, and mechanical properties, it is held that JP'548 has created a prima facie case of obviousness of the presently claimed invention.

Overlapping ranges have been held to be a prima facie case of obviousness, see MPEP § 2144.05. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to select any portion of the range, including the claimed range, from the broader range disclosed in the prior art, because the prior art finds that said composition in the entire disclosed range has a suitable utility.

A prima facie case of obviousness exists where the claimed ranges and prior art ranges do not overlap but are close enough that one skilled in the art would have expected them to have the same properties. Titanium Metals Corp. of America v. Banner, 778 F.2d 775, 227 USPQ 773

Art Unit: 1793

(Fed. Cir. 1985) (Court held as proper a rejection of a claim directed to an alloy of "having 0.8% nickel, 0.3% molybdenum, up to 0.1% iron, balance titanium" as obvious over a reference disclosing alloys of 0.75% nickel, 0.25% molybdenum, balance titanium and 0.94% nickel, 0.31% molybdenum, balance titanium.), see MPEP 2144.05.

Concerning claims 3 and 4, JP'548 does not specify the ultimate tensile strength or elongation in an annealed temper. However, because JP'548 teaches a substantially identical alloy product, processed substantially as presently claimed, then substantially the same properties, including UTS and elongation, are expected to occur for JP'548 as in the instant invention.

Once a reference teaching product appearing to be substantially identical is made the basis of a rejection, and the examiner presents evidence or reasoning tending to show inherency, the burden shifts to the applicant to show an unobvious difference. "[T]he PTO can require an applicant to prove that the prior art products do not necessarily or inherently possess the characteristics of his [or her] claimed product. Whether the rejection is based on inherency' under 35 U.S.C. 102, on prima facie obviousness' under 35 U.S.C. 103, jointly or alternatively, the burden of proof is the same, and its fairness is evidenced by the PTO's inability to manufacture products or to obtain and compare prior art products." In re Best, 562 F.2d 1252, 1255, 195 USPQ 430, 433-34 (CCPA 1977)), see MPEP 2112. Applicant has not clearly shown an unobvious difference between the instant invention and the prior art's product.
